GREAT BRITAIN SENDS FRANCO WARNING HER PATIENCE EXHAUSTED

Bluntly-Worded Protest Threatens Reprisals for Attacks on Mediterranean Shipping—Will Endorse Warning by Turkey of Intention to Sink Submarines Off the Dardanelles

LONDON, Aug. 26 (P).—Great Britain served notice on insurgent General Franco tonight her patience over attacks on Mediterranean shipping has reached the breaking point. The Foreign Office was preparing for a showdown at a meeting tomorrow of the chairman's sub-committee of the non-intervention powers.

Great Britain, informed sources predicted, will endorse a warning by Turkey today that Turkish warships will sink submarines that enter Turkish waters in further attacks on Spanish and other shipping off the Dardanelles.

BANDITRY AND PIRACY

Russia was expected to adopt the same stand. Moseyevitch Kagan, her neutrality representative, declared the attacks were "banditry and piracy on the part of Franco and his Italian allies."

A British note to Franco, transmitted through Ambassador Sir Henry G. Chilton, at Hendaye, France, threatened reprisals. A bluntly worded protest warned: "If there is any repetition of these attacks the British Government must reserve to themselves the right to take such action as the occasion demands."

DANGER TO LIFE-LINE

The danger to Britain's maritime interest in the Mediterranean, her life-line to India and the Far East, was brought to focus again by the fifteenth recent attack on a British merchantman.

U. S. DIPLOMATS STUDY PROBLEM

Japan's Threat of Blockade Again Raises Question of Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (P).—Grave developments in the Sino-Japanese conflict kept United States diplomats in a state of jump anxiety today and raised again the question of thrusting the neutrality act into the situation.

After a morning devoted entirely to studying dispatches and conferring with officials of the War and Navy departments, Secretary Hull made a comprehensive report to President Roosevelt at a luncheon, which just preceded a meeting of the cabinet.

Without minimizing the seriousness of other developments, the threat of a complete naval blockade dominated discussions here, for it was this which raised again the question of thrusting the neutrality act into the situation.

NO FORMAL WAR

That law forbids shipments of munitions to belligerents and authorizes the President to put other supplies on a cash-and-carry basis. The law has not been applied to the Sino-Japanese situation because, officials have said, there has been no formal declaration of war.

A blockade, those familiar with such things said, would raise several knotty problems of international law: whether a blockade could be imposed without a declaration of war and whether such action, of itself, would be legal evidence that a state of war exists.

Appointed to Newfoundland Commission

LONDON, Aug. 26 (P).—Hon. L. Edward Emerson, K.C., of St. John's, Nfld., has been appointed a member of the Newfoundland Commission of Government, succeeding Hon. W. R. Howley, K.C., as commissioner of justice. The Colonial Office announced tonight. Howley has been appointed registrar of the Newfoundland Supreme Court, effective October 1, to succeed the late Sir William F. Lloyd.

Where Undeclared but Bitter War Rages

This map gives a graphic description of the main divisions of Shanghai, the great international city of China. The map shows clearly the Native City (Chapei), which was severely damaged in the Sino-Japanese clash in 1932; the International Settlement, chiefly British and American; and the French Settlement. The city, situated at the junction of the Whangpoo and Yangtze Rivers, has a population of 3,500,000.

Spanish Government in Grave Danger; Catalonia May Surrender to Rebels

Negotiations With Franco Reported—Province Wants Autonomy Guaranteed

LOYALIST WARNING SENT TO BARCELONA

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 26 (P).—The Spanish Government, struggling desperately to hold its two remaining fragments of Northwest Spain, faced an even graver danger tonight in the possibility of a Catalonian surrender to the insurgents.

With the fall of Santander, all of Northwest Spain flies the insurgent flag except the area west of the Bay of Biscay port, where its defenders fled and where a Government force still besieged insurgent-held Oviedo.

ASK CAPITULATION

An envoy of autonomous Catalonia, a report from Biarritz said, negotiated with insurgent General Franco's representatives for capitulation if the province's autonomy is guaranteed. His Navarrese troops spread towards Asturias, driving on San Vicente de la Barquera, one

Arabs and Natives in Kenya Riot

MOMBASA, Kenya, Aug. 26 (CP-Havas).—Eleven Arabs were killed in new clashes here today between Arabs and native tribesmen.

The situation tonight was tense with police reinforcements speeding here from Nairobi. The disorders were a sequel to all-night rioting Tuesday and Wednesday.

Two British officials, District Officer Leslie and Chief Inspector Nelson, were attacked by a band of Arab and Somali warriors, who were shot dead when an Askari knocked down his attacker.

Andrew Mellon Dead; Was One of World's Greatest Financiers

Served as Secretary of United States Treasury Under Three Presidents and Was Former Ambassador to Great Britain—Was Eighty-Four SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y., Aug. 26 (P).—Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States under three Presidents, former Ambassador to Great Britain and one of the world's most wealthy men, died peacefully tonight in the home of a daughter, Mrs. David Bruce.

Death was due to uremia and bronchial pneumonia.

He was in his eighty-fourth year. His death took from the American scene one of the last of its statesmen-financiers.

Mellon, spare, quiet, white-haired and reserved, had gone to the home of Mrs. Bruce last month, his health weakened by the excessive June heat of Washington, where he had

Inflationary Chaos Only Logical Result of Social Credit

QUEBEC, Aug. 26 (P).—Rt. Hon. Reginald McKenna, war-time British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and present chairman of the Midland Bank, arrived here today on the liner Empress of Britain to begin a holiday tour which will carry him through Western Canada and the Rocky Mountains.

Besieged by reporters for his opinion on Social Credit, Mr. McKenna replied:

"You ask me if I can say that I understand Social Credit. Well, yes and no. If you ask me if I understand the promises and contentions of Social Credit the answer is 'yes.' If you ask if I understand that the conclusions of Social Credit exponents follow their promises, the answer is 'no.' The logical conclusion of Social Credit is an inflationary chaos."

Governor Made Chief Eckwenisa Of Bella Coola

Lord Tweedsmuir Honored in Indian Ceremony Similar to That at Welcome of Alexander Mackenzie—Sacred Thunderbird Dance Performed—Anniversary Duly Celebrated

BELLA COOLA, B.C., Aug. 26 (P).—Chief Eckwenisa and his Western touring party sailed out of this port tonight bound for Prince Rupert, British Columbia's northernmost port, aboard the Ss. Corda. Lord Tweedsmuir, newly-created chief of the Bella Coola tribe, left with the blessing of Chief Samuel King.

The Governor-General left under the protection of snow-white eagle down sprinkled over his head at an Indian ceremony in which he was welcomed to the tribe and promised protection much as the famous Scottish explorer, Alexander Mackenzie, was welcomed 144 years ago.

SYMBOL OF FORTUNE

The eagle down, ancient symbol throughout the Coast tribes of peace, friendship and good fortune, brought promise to His Excellency of a safe return to his Ottawa home.

VICTORIA-BUILT TUGBOAT DOOMED

For Nearly Half a Century the Lorne Piled Pacific Coast—Now Going Into Scrap

VANCOUVER, Aug. 26 (P).—The veteran tugboat Lorne, built in Victoria in 1889, is being scrapped at the British Columbia Marine Engineering & Shipbuilding Yards.

The wooden vessel, 131 feet long at the time of her launching, was the finest vessel ever built in Victoria. For nearly fifty years she operated along the British Columbia Coast. During the last decade she was operated by the Pacific (Coyle) Navigation Company. Originally she had been built for the Dunsmuir interests.

The Lorne's first master was Captain James Christensen, of Victoria, one of the first of the British Columbia Coast pilots.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR TO CHINA SHOT DOWN BY JAPAN'S FLYERS

Scotland's Famed Peak Is Humbled By Machine Age

GLASGOW, Aug. 26 (P).—Ben Lomond, Scotland, 3,192-foot mountain, has been conquered by motor car. Wallace Henderson, a Glasgow engineer, used a home-made car, three feet wide and five feet long, with wheels only fourteen inches in diameter, to accomplish the feat. The car was driven by a motorcycle engine mounted on the rear.

BRITAIN WILL TAKE ACTION

Waiting Further Required Information Regarding Ambassador's Injury

LONDON, Aug. 26 (P).—The Government, shocked by the wounding of the British ambassador to China by Japanese bullets, tonight promised "appropriate action with the Japanese Government."

The Foreign Office received frequent reports on the condition of Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, His Majesty's envoy plenipotentiary, and Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, considered what the "appropriate action" might be. The King was advised of the incident.

COMMUNIQUE ISSUED

The Foreign Office issued a communique stating:

"His Majesty's Government has received the news of the shooting of His Majesty's ambassador to China with the deepest concern. 'According to their information, the ambassador's car, flying the Union Jack, was fired on with a machine gun and bombed about 2.30 p.m. today by two Japanese airplanes.'"

PREMIER VISITS PRINCE RUPERT

Leaves Next Week for Tour Of Northern Interior Of Province

PRINCE RUPERT, Aug. 26 (P).—Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, Premier T. D. Pattullo and Hon. A. W. G. Gray, British Columbia Minister of Lands, arrived today at this northern British Columbia port from Bella Coola, B.C., aboard H.M.C.S. Fraser.

They preceded the Governor-General's party, which left Bella Coola this evening aboard the Union Steamship Corda for the northern terminus of their tour.

Mr. Mackenzie, who spent the day inspecting the new Army and Naval Reserve Building, and the site of a new Federal building, for which he said tenders would be called within two weeks, will leave tomorrow for Ottawa by Canadian National Railway.

Mr. Pattullo will remain here until Monday, when he will leave for Prince George, B.C., to begin a tour of the northern interior of British Columbia.

Civil Service Plan Of Fire Department Not Supported Here

City Wardens Recommend to Council That Municipal Convention Delegates Oppose Alteration In Control Suggested by Firefighters

FIRE wardens will recommend to the City Council that delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention register strong opposition to a move of British Columbia Provincial Association of Fire Fighters to have every city fire department in the province placed under the Civil Service Act.

Aldermen W. Lloyd Morgan, T. W. Hawkins and Archie Wills came to the above decision at a fire wardens' meeting in the City Hall yesterday afternoon.

Delegates to the municipal convention to be held at Nanaimo on September 8 and 9 are Mayor Andrew McGavin, Aldermen Wills, Morgan, John A. Worthington and Edward Williams. They will attend a resolutions committee meeting

Critically Wounded by Machine-Gun Bullets When Driving From Nanking to Shanghai—Japanese Quick to Express Regret—Claims Union Jack Mistaken for Chinese Flag

Formidable Japanese Force Marching in From Woosung

SHANGHAI, Aug. 27 (CP-Havas).—Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, British Ambassador to China, critically wounded in the spine yesterday by a Japanese machine gun bullet, passed a restless night in hospital and showed slight improvement this morning.

Physicians said the improvement stimulated hopes they may be able to announce within the next twelve hours that he is out of danger.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 27 (P).—Reckless aerial bullets that struck down the British Ambassador to China thrust Japan into a diplomatic incident with Great Britain today. Sir Hugh Montgomery Knatchbull-Hugessen, the British Ambassador, lay in a Shanghai hospital, seriously wounded by machine gun bullets from a Japanese warplane.

Almost at the moment he was shot, the Japanese Navy indicated it might extend its blockade of 800 miles of Chinese coast south of Shanghai, hitherto confined to Chinese shipping, to include assumption of the right for Japanese officers to board and search the ships of other nations.

Japanese air bombers added to the mounting toll of foreign property damage in the Shanghai area by a ninety-minute bombardment of the valuable United States-owned dairy farm near this city.

ON PEACE MISSION

The British envoy was wounded on Thursday while motoring from Nanking to Shanghai on a mission of peace. Two automobiles, each displaying a large Union Jack, carried the party, which included Lieutenant-Colonel W. A. Lovat-Fraser, military attaché, and E. L. Hall-Patch, financial adviser to the embassy.

Fifty miles from Shanghai, two Japanese planes swooped down, flying so low that members of the

AIR MAIL SOON TO BE REALITY

British Director of Postal Services Arrives to Confer With Canadians

QUEBEC, Aug. 26 (P).—Air mail service on a surcharge basis may be in effect between Canada and the United Kingdom during 1938, it was indicated by Sir Thomas Gardiner, director of postal services of Great Britain, on his arrival today on the liner Empress of Britain.

Sir Thomas, accompanied by Sir Raymond Woods, assistant director of postal services, and their wives, will visit Banff and Lake Louise for a holiday. On his return to Eastern Canada Sir Thomas said he would have conferences with Canadian postal officials at Ottawa.

IMPERIAL MAILS

Sir Thomas said all first-class mail from the United Kingdom to South Africa was now carried by air. "By the end of this year it will all be carried by air to India and by next year to Australia."

Air services have been operated for years on these three routes, but on surcharge basis. In 1939, if, as we hope, air mail service to Canada goes into effect, it will be on a surcharge basis for some time. The flights of the Caledonia and the Cambria to Canada and the United States have been most successful from an operating point of view."

Sir Thomas declared "But," he added, "there must inevitably be some time before proper arrangements can be made for the institution of air mail service."

RAILWAY STRIKE IS FORESTALLED

Wage Demands of "Big Five" Brotherhoods to Go Before Mediation Board

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (P).—Swift intervention of the national mediation board today forestalled a strike of 350,000 members of the "big five" railroad brotherhoods.

Both the unionists and the carriers agreed to submit a controversy over demands for a 20 per cent wage increase to the Federal agency.

Mediation hearings were scheduled to begin here Saturday. The peace overtures were initiated while the brotherhood chiefs were in session with the agreed purpose of fixing the hour and the day for a nation-wide walkout of the men who man the trains.

Sourdoughs of Yukon Gathered at Toronto Greet Friends of '98

Hardened Pioneers of Great Gold Stampede to Frozen North Meet in Convention at Queen City—Elect New Officers

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (C.P.).—M. M. (Mike) Mahoney, of Ottawa, who'd sooner "be back on the old trail of '98" than try to make a speech to a bunch of sourdoughs, was elected president of International Sourdough Reunion, Inc., today. Then the 100 or so trail-hardened veterans who elected him went out for an automobile ride.

They stayed around the convention hall just long enough to decide Portland, Ore., would be a good place to hold next year's convention and to elect a new executive. They heard a speaker describe Mike Mahoney as one "who had all the fire and the ambition and enthusiasm I myself had in '94," and promptly named him to succeed Mrs. Beale Mauro.

TURNS OVER AFFAIRS

That was quite all right with Mrs. Mauro. The Portland woman, who saw them come and go into the Yukon at the turn of the century, said she was "glad to turn the reins over to Mike" and hoped he'd get along as well as she did in controlling the affairs of the organization that has members in almost every North American city.

From all parts of the continent the veterans came to the three-day meeting which ends tomorrow. In the words of Mayor W. D. Robbins, who officially welcomed the delegates to Toronto, they had come to the "place of meeting," the translation of the Indian name of Toronto.

MUCH ENTERTAINMENT

It was a great day for those white-haired men and women who pushed over the trail of '98 into the Yukon, hearkening to the lure of gold. They'd shaken hands with the mayor, had their picture taken in front of the City Hall, been taken on tours of the district, seen Niagara Falls.

Yes, admitted seventy-six-year-old Thomas Sherwood, who went "over Chilcotin Pass in '94 and saw Dawson City before they cut a tree down," there was some talk of a convention. But the ruddy-faced little man was more interested in whether the group picture taken before the City Hall would appear in the paper than in the transaction of business.

MEETING OLD FRIENDS

It was much more fun to meet old friends, renew acquaintance with the men he knew when the gold fever had the North in its grip. "They're a great bunch," said Sherwood, "eyes twinkling as he looked over the gathering. 'They're here from San Francisco, Los Angeles,

FUTURE BLEAK UPON PRAIRIES

Eastern and Western Canada Well on Way to Recovery Says Financier

Hugh Aird, of Toronto, member of a well-known financial firm and son of Sir John Aird, former president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, believes that the West, like the East, is well on the way to recovery, but that the future is dim for parts of the Prairie Provinces.

He arrived yesterday with his wife and two children from Jasper, and is registered at the Empress Hotel. He is looking forward to spending three days in Victoria, and will enjoy some of that time fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Aird will return home by way of Banff.

Crops were exceptionally good in Ontario, he said. The activity which the province has enjoyed in mining is expected again in early autumn.

He stated that Canadian crops were better south of Winnipeg, but sparse from Portage la Prairie on northwards.

"Saskatchewan is plucking in and facing its problems," he commented, "but the policies of Premier Abernethy in Alberta are having a deterrent effect upon the province generally."

Mr. Aird declared he was glad to be back here again. He is no stranger to this city, and has been here on several other occasions.

BRITISH AMBASSADOR SHOT BY JAPANESE

British party could easily see their Japanese emblems sprayed the cars with machine gun bullets, at least two of which struck the ambassador as he stepped his car and stepped out.

BOMB FOLLOWS GUNFIRE
The second plane dropped a bomb, a concussion from which knocked Colonel Lovat-Fraser unconscious. Otherwise he and Hall-Patch were uninjured. Colonel Lovat-Fraser quickly recovered.

The ambassador was rushed to the Country Hospital, in the Shanghai International Settlement, where surgeons found one bullet had broken his back but had not harmed the spinal cord. This bullet entered under the right armpit and came out on the left side, near the waist.

Sir Hugh's condition was declared highly critical. Early today he was reported to have rallied somewhat after a blood transfusion. Surgeons said they could not probe for other bullets because of the patient's weakened condition. The doctors said it would be twenty-four hours before they could estimate the ambassador's chances of recovery.

ORDER INVESTIGATION
British officials said there was no doubt the attacking planes were Japanese. Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander Japanese naval forces at Shanghai, ordered an investigation of the shooting and called on Admiral Sir Charles J. C. Little, commander of the British Chinese Squadron, to tell him of this action.

In Tokyo a Foreign Office spokesman said it was "unthinkable" that Japanese aircraft could have fired knowingly at the British Ambassador. Foreign Minister Koki Hirota ordered the Ambassador to China, Shigeru Kawagoe, to convey to Sir Hugh an expression of Japan's warm sympathy.

In London Foreign Secretary Eden took the shooting under "very grave consideration" and the Foreign Office announced it would take "appropriate action" toward the Japanese Government.

Japanese officials quickly expressed regret over the wounding of the Ambassador. Naval and diplomatic officers called at the hospital to make sympathetic inquiries.

SUGGESTS BIGGER FLAG
A Japanese Embassy spokesman, deploring the shooting, said the air-men evidently had mistaken the British flags for Chinese flags, which are red and blue. He suggested the Ambassador should have had a flag large enough to "spread over the whole roof of his car."

At Nanking Chinese officials and foreign diplomats expressed horror and dismay over the wounding of Sir Hugh. Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, head of the Chinese Government, telephoned to the Shanghai hospital to express sympathy and sent Mayor O. K. Yui of Greater Shanghai to the hospital with flowers.

Diplomats said Sir Hugh was on his way to Shanghai to discuss with Japanese Ambassador Kawagoe the possibility of diplomatic action to end the Shanghai conflict.

But in Japan, Premier Fumimaro Kawagoe said Japan was determined to punish the Chinese by force and that there was very little chance of further diplomatic exchanges.

Sir Hugh is fifty-one years of age and is a first cousin of Senator Adrien Knatchbull-Hugessen, G.C., of Montreal, and of Paul Lionel Knatchbull-Hugessen, of Winnipeg.

FIRST AMBASSADOR
In His Majesty's diplomatic service for thirty years, Sir Hugh is the first ambassador to China, appointed in 1936 when the legation was raised to embassy status.

As to the sea blockade, a Japanese naval spokesman said: "Foreign whips along the China coast may be halted by Japanese warships patrolling the area." This would be an extension of the blockade announced Wednesday, then specifically limited to Chinese officials and private vessels. The spokesman added:

"We exercise the privilege of pre-emption toward foreign bottoms carrying cargoes which in time of war would be contraband."

(In Washington, officials admitted concern over possible effects of an extension of the Japanese blockade, while in Paris sources close to the Foreign Office said France would not recognize the right of Japanese naval ships to examine foreign vessels in China waters.)

FOR FOURTH TIME
J. H. McKinnon, manager of the American-owned Poplar Groves dairy farms near Shanghai, reported that he and William Schlobohm, aviator, narrowly escaped death when Japanese airplanes bombed the farm for the fourth time in ten days.

McKinnon said sixteen big Japanese bombers flew over the farm for one and a half hours, utterly destroying the plant and killing 250 of the dairy herd. American flags were flying over the property, he said. Several Chinese employees were killed.

Previously Japanese air bombs seriously damaged cotton mills in the Wusong area belonging to the Wing On Company, but mortgaged to American interests.

Nevertheless, a spokesman for the Japanese Embassy, asked about the prospect of reparation, replied stiffly:

"We have taken great pains to respect foreign property. So far no American property has been damaged."

In Nanking the Chinese Government announced it had executed fifteen men and three women, all Chinese, convicted of espionage "on behalf of the enemy." They were accused of supplying military information to the Japanese.

SANK SURVEY SHIP
A Japanese naval spokesman asserted Japanese warships guns sank the Chinese Jih, 500-ton survey ship, at the confluence of the Whangpoo and Yangtze Rivers.

An Associated Press correspondent in a tour of the Shanghai battle area found the Chinese had fallen back on a broad front from the Hongkew and Yangtze districts in Northeastern Shanghai, although they clung to their old positions in Chapei, adjacent to the Anglo-American section of the International Settlement.

The Japanese claimed a smashing series of successes for their arms in the North China campaigns, where Japanese forces operating over a wide area are trying to capture the railway and highway leading north-west from Peiping through Chahar to Mongolia and Inner Asia. Other Japanese columns held off growing Chinese armies trying to advance from the South along railways to Peiping and Tientsin.

Japanese headquarters at Tientsin announced capture of Kaigan, key city of Chahar, 100 miles northwest of Peiping, of Hwallai and the northern entrance to the Nankow Pass, thirty miles from Peiping, which the Japanese have been trying for two weeks to force by a drive from the southeast.

The few thousand Chinese still resisting within the pass, a tortuous series of defiles fifteen miles long, were said to be trapped with large Japanese forces at either end.

Members of the Metropolitan Church Choir are asked to be at Harry Nancarrow this afternoon. The choir will meet in the school-room of the church at 2:15 p.m.

ANDREW W. MELLON CALLED BY DEATH

All his life he had been shy and diffident in manner. He went to death less known than many lesser men. Death came at 4:30 p.m. (P.S.T.).

He became Secretary of the Treasury first in the Administration of Warren G. Harding, and was held over by Presidents Coolidge and Hoover.

A GREAT SECRETARY
Republicans called him "the greatest Secretary of the Treasury since Alexander Hamilton," but in his public career he was long the target of Democratic party criticism. By some he was made the symbol of great corporate wealth.

In 1924 there was an unsuccessful attempt in the Senate to drive him from office.

The public never knew the real power and force of his inner circle, but even this inner circle was widely regarded as one of the ablest supporters of Herbert Hoover as President.

In 1928 it was Mellon who swung the big Pennsylvania delegation in line for Hoover.

He smashed a powerful "stop Hoover" movement.

ILL FOR MONTH
With Mellon when he died in the quiet of the Bruce home were Paul Mellon, of Pittsburgh, his son; Mr. Bruce and Mrs. Bruce.

He had been in physicians' care for three weeks and had not been out of the house for a month. Steadily he had grown weaker.

When he arrived at the Bruce home he walked occasionally about the grounds, but even this activity soon was denied him.

"The end was perfectly peaceful," said Bruce. "He was very weak." He made no last statement or request as he died.

The funeral will be held in Pittsburgh, but the time has not been decided.

In spite of weakening health, he remained in Washington throughout the winter and into the excessive heat of June to complete arrangements for his last great undertaking, the National Gallery of Art.

GIFT TO NATION
For years he planned the gallery as a gift to the nation. Through eleven years as Secretary of the Treasury he continued to add to the collection of paintings and sculptures he intended should be enshrined in the national gallery.

Finally, the collection was valued at $50,000,000 in assets. It should be only the "nucleus" for a great national art treasure to rival those of Europe.

Excavation for foundations of the gallery already is under way in Washington. The building will be completed by the A. W. Mellon Educational Charitable Trust. It will cost upwards of $15,000,000, plus an endowment of $5,000,000 for salaries and future art acquisitions.

One of his last fights—in which he was squared away against the Roosevelt Administration's Treasury, which sought $30,000,000 in asserted unpaid taxes and penalties—was not ended yet. The Board of Tax Appeals still is considering the case.

Earlier, in 1934, the Government put the affair before a Pittsburgh grand jury, which refused to indict.

In April of this year, Mellon, thirty-six other persons and thirty-seven corporations were named in a complaint against an alleged monopoly of the Aluminum Company of America and its affiliates.

BORN IN PITTSBURGH
Mr. Mellon was born on March 24, 1854, at Pittsburgh, the son of John Thomas and Sarah Jane Negley Mellon. His father was judge in the Allegheny County Court, but retired in 1869 to found the banking house of T. Mellon & Sons.

After his schooling in the public schools of Pittsburgh and the University of Pittsburgh, the future Secretary entered this banking house and, upon the retirement of his father, he and his brother, R. B. Mellon, organized the Union Trust Company and the Union Savings Bank.

These institutions and the Mellon National Bank, of which Andrew W. was made president, formed the bulwark of the numerous other financial and industrial interests with which he became connected before he was required to drop all upon his entry into the Cabinet.

Ignoring completely the matters of international moment in the Japan-China situation that have been occupying the spotlight of public attention for the past three weeks, Robert H. Davis, internationally known world reporter for The New York Sun, kept members of the Rotary Club amused for half an hour on lesser topics at the weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Although his subject, "Intimate Glimpses of the Far East," gave members hopes he would shed some light on the present conflict in the Orient, he chose rather to deal with some aspects of life in India, that had attracted his attention while on a six months' visit there last year.

Warning would-be travelers to the Orient against the tricks of sharpers, the speaker cited several occasions when he had been taken in by their methods. On one occasion he had been sold a completely worthless sapphire for five pounds, and this and other experiences led him to describe a guide in India as "one who goes through your pockets every morning and at any other opportunity."

INDIAN PHILOSOPHY
The Indian philosophy of Nirvana, the perfect state, was described at some length by the speaker, who drew attention to the importance of the sacred Ganges River.

The beautiful Taj Mahal, the brick bath of Lord Clive at Madras, the "Tooth of Buddha" kept in a cave temple and an unusual religious sect of the Ceylonese were other curiosities commented on by the speaker.

Passing on to another subject, the world traveler said that, in the course of his journeys, he had come across two sets of quintuplets, apart from the Dionne.

The speaker was introduced by George I. Warren, and thanked for his address by Samuel Armstrong. Mr. Warren pointed out that Mr. Davis had written a book, "Canada's Cavalcade," the first twenty chapters of which are devoted to Vancouver Island.

During the meeting Herb Pendry reported on a proposed outpost membership scheme for extending the club's membership.

LOYALISTS FACE GRAVE POSITION

of the few ports remaining in Government hands in Santander Province.

Hardly a shot was fired, the advancing insurgents meeting virtually no resistance. This was taken as an indication the Asturias and other Government troops, whose largest remaining city is the port of Gijon, are ready to abandon the fight.

SURRENDER ARMS
Thousands of Government militiamen, caught in a pocket between General Franco's coastal column and his columns which moved north through Villa Carriedo and Torrelavega, surrendered their arms to Carlist cavalry and infantry mopping up the area around Ramblas.

As Government provincial authorities met today at Gijon to discuss a council with autonomous authority for the remaining Government-held Northwest a fleet of nine insurgent planes roared overhead. Six were killed, ten wounded and heavy damage was done by bombs.

BLOW TO GOVERNMENT
Loss of Catalonia would be an almost insuperable blow to the Government. Barcelona, the provincial capital, is a vital port and centre of munitions manufacture. Under General Sebastian Pozas, Catalonia's armies recently have been reorganized as one of the strongest units in the Government's defenses.

Informed circles saw some substantiation of the negotiation reports in a Spanish Government warning to Barcelona that it would send an international brigade into Catalonia if the province made a separate peace with the insurgents.

VICTORIA MAN APPOINTED
DUNCAN, Aug. 26.—James Currie, of Victoria, was appointed the "leading star" of the Duncan Junior High School, at a meeting held last night at the City Hall. Mr. Currie is a graduate of the University of British Columbia and will be instructor in mathematics at the school here.

GIVES TALK ON TRAVELS

R. H. Davis, World Reporter For New York Sun, Speaks On Far East

"The ambassador was very seriously wounded and now is in hospital in Shanghai. The British military attaché and the financial adviser, who were in the same car, are stated to be unhurt."

"His Majesty's Government are obtaining certain further information which they require. As soon as this information has been received, they will be in a position to take appropriate action with the Japanese Government."

The fact that the envoy was hurt in what appeared to a Foreign Office spokesman as "the wounding of a civilian automobile when a state of war has not even been declared," seem to authoritative sources to call for severe reproof.

The wounding of the ambassador seemed to be regarded in the gravest possible light because the Japanese are fighting in a territory with which they officially are at peace.

ARMY OFFICERS SAY FAREWELL
Many Changes Announced In Commands of Victoria And Esquimalt Corps

Brigadier and Mrs. A. E. Dalziel were principal speakers at a joint meeting of the Victoria and Esquimalt Salvation Army Corps, when they gave farewells messages to a well-attended gathering. After five years as divisional commander for Southern British Columbia, the brigadier, with Mrs. Dalziel and their three children, will leave shortly for Toronto, where he has been appointed to the principality of the Toronto Training School for young Army officers.

Adjutant L. Ede, who has also received a new appointment after three years in command at the Citadel here, was in the chair. He will proceed to a similar post in Saskatoon in the near future.

Announcement was made during the meeting that the successors to Adjutant and Mrs. Ede will be Adjutant and Mrs. C. W. Watt, who will come here from Westminster.

Changes in the Esquimalt staff were also announced in the course of last night's meeting. Captain Mildred Battrick and Lieutenant Jean Wylie are under orders to transfer from the Esquimalt to the Esquimalt Corps command. They will be succeeded by Captain Fairlie Mattart and Lieutenant Thompson, who have been with the North Vancouver Corps until the present.

The new divisional commander for Southern British Columbia, to succeed Brigadier Dalziel, will be Brigadier Kathleen Junker, who is being transferred from the Saskatchewan provincial command. Command was made at the meeting that Brigadier Junker was in command of the local Citadel some twelve years ago, and so is well known here.

Annihilation of space and time by there left for lack of contact modern inventions is no longer to be misunderstood between the he wondered at, said Mr. MacDonald, "peoples on each side of the ocean?" Mr. MacDonald was introduced by Sir Francis L. C. Flood, High Commissioner in Canada for the United Kingdom, who was a guest in the Government building. It was the aim of the organizers of the United Kingdom section, he said, to present a display illustrating the close bonds between Canada and the United Kingdom.

In front of a tableau, representing the Crown and other symbols of loyalty surrounded by six young women, representing the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India, representatives of each of the countries gave addresses. ## LADYSMITH MAY HAVE AMBULANCE

City Council Discusses Proposal With Lumber Operator—To Start Work on Lighting

LADYSMITH, Aug. 26.—Ladysmith may shortly have an ambulance as a community service as the result of discussion last evening between J. C. Sheagreen, superintendent of the Comox operations here, and the City Council.

Mr. Sheagreen, citing Courtenas as an example, said it was advisable to have such a service community owned and under the care of the volunteer fire department of the city for immediate response at all hours in case of camp highway and other accidents, or for the comfortable transportation of sick persons to hospital. The Comox company was prepared to give a substantial donation and the employees would probably subscribe generously.

The City Council entirely approved of the suggestion and it was referred to a special committee of ways and means to bring down an early report.

NEW LIGHTING

Work will commence shortly on the installation of the first unit of the new street lighting system, and the new standards, with their mercury vapor lamps, will reach from Roberts to High Streets. Completion of the work will give Ladysmith the first ultra-modern "white ray" illumination on the Island. Alderman J. W. Aikman spoke strongly on the conditions attendant on the shortage of water on and above Fourth Avenue and demanded an investigation and report by the medical health officer or the board of health. It was reported that recent rains had somewhat alleviated the situation and that little could be done meanwhile with the complaint until the new pipes were laid from the reservoir to Stocking Lake. The first assignment of pipes had arrived and work was ready to start. Mayor W. W. Walker and Alderman William Cullum were appointed as official delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention in Nanaimo on September 8 and 9.

It doesn't take a tea specialist to produce a merely "strong" tea; neither is it difficult to make up an "expensive" tea. But to create a blend which combines delicacy of flavor and aroma with good color and "body," and to offer it at a reasonable price—this calls for all the skill and experience at the command of the expert blender. But that is what EMPRESS has achieved—and it is the reason why you really must try!

TREK NORTH, URGES DAVIS

Famous New York Columnist Paraphrases Advice Of Horace Greeley

To Bob Davis, of The New York Sun, possibly the most widely-travelled correspondent in the world, the Yukon and Alaska from which he has recently returned is the lightest great frontier of scientific mineralogical research, awaiting only a new wave of pioneers to awaken it from its lethargy, and to revive the old spirit of '98.

Though he has journeyed to the remote places of the world, has sat with judges in the courts of Russia, walked with the teeming crowds in India's bazaars, and interviewed the great of the earth, Bob Davis comes back to this island time after time. "If I were ever to settle," he says, "I would like to make my home here in Victoria."

He has discovered a new interest in the Yukon. And his conversation, very much like his writings, vitalizes everything upon which he touches. He described how a Scandinavian wood-chopper with a poke of $850 awoke from drunken stupor to find that a friend had taken the gold dust, and left him the deed to a claim on Eldorado Creek.

Scientific mining in the opinion of the columnist and author, is the new song of success of the Yukon. But, he maintains, for every big company that goes in there with its great dredges and cyanide processes, there must be the pioneer to precede them, to find the gold, which lies through the length and breadth of the country.

"It is always the men with great intestinal fortitude that go into a country first. And once there, you seldom shake them loose," he said. "I have seen lava rain down Vesuvius, and Pelé blow a hole in the earth. But the peasants on the slopes always return. That's the stuff pioneers are made of. They beat a track for capital to follow. And since they are not intellectuals, they leave it to the capitalist, to gain by the research he can so easily buy. There will come a time when a new race of pioneers—the old pioneers reborn, if you like, will come up there and change the face of the country."

"Horace Greeley said 'Go west, young man.' If I were forty years younger I'd go to Alaska."

"How about the Yukon?" he was asked.

YUKON PROMISING
"The Yukon or Alaska—it's all the same," he replied. "They lie within the same great dike. If they ever crack another mine connecting with Fairbanks, Reward, and Horse. It will be the making of the new North."

Mr. Davis suggested the flying machine would be the salvation of this great land. Men with grubstakes are being dropped all over the vast territories, and he visited at the end of each month. Promising colors are immediately assayed, and from then on, capital steps in to develop the properties.

He declares there are 220,000 miles of placer land under the tundra, with some colors very rich. Some of the bigger dredges are taking out a million dollars a month.

A lot of the material he has gathered in the land made famous by Robert W. Service will go into a book he is to write. Vancouver Island is described graphically in another book from his pen, "Canada's Cavalcade."

BOARD APPOINTS VANCOUVER MAN

W. R. T. Fowler Selected for Post On Ladysmith High School Staff—Other Appointments

LADYSMITH, Aug. 26.—Out of a long list of applicants, W. R. T. Fowler, B.A., of Vancouver, was appointed by the board of school trustees to the high school teaching staff here.

Mr. Fowler graduated from the University of British Columbia in 1935 with honors in chemistry and will specialize in the teaching of this subject with physics and mathematics. Ladysmith High School will have a senior matriculation course this year, and this necessitated the appointment of another teacher.

TO PUBLIC SCHOOL
The vacancy in the public school teaching staff, caused by the resignation of E. Akenhead, was filled by the appointment of Walter Ferguson, native son of the district. Mr. Ferguson taught last year at Vanderhoof, and formerly at Port Fraser.

A joint meeting of the board and the city council planned some school grounds improvement, but it is unlikely this will be undertaken until after the school term commences.

REAL "BABY" BANDITS
BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 26.—Three twelve-year-old alleged "baby bandits" were held by police here today as they investigated the "holdup" and robbery of a young girl who battled so strenuously against the trio who sought to make off with her purse that she recovered some of her money.

Logger Injured By Falling Tree At Jordan River

DUNCAN NINE COMING HERE

Up-Island Balltossers Will Oppose Victoria Baseball Club Tomorrow

Lowell "Shorty" Berkey, former Calgary southpaw, will parade to the mound tomorrow afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park, when the Up-Islanders oppose the Victoria Baseball Club in an exhibition attraction. The fixture will start at 3 o'clock.

Duncan will trot out a number of new players and promise to give the undefeated local nine plenty of stiff opposition. "Chuck" Vidal and Eric Smythe are the only members of the Duncan team which have performed on the local diamond. Jack Strouger, peppery backstop for the Hillcrest Lumber Company softball nine, may also make the trip with the Duncan squad.

Undeclared in five starts, the Victoria Baseball Club feels confident of keeping their winning streak intact at the expense of the Duncanites. Sonny Walker, lanky young hurler now enjoying one of his best seasons, will start on the slab for the locals. Walker has a variety of offerings and should work nicely against the Up-Islanders. Massa Kuwabara, smart receiver, will do the chores behind the plate. The club will be the same as that which defeated Port Alberni in the Vancouver Island Day final last week.

LOCAL JUNIORS TAKE FUTURE

Hubert Lethaby's junior cricketers defeated visiting players from the Fairbridge Farm School, Duncan, 173 to 162, in an all-day cricket match played recently at Macdonald Park. The visitors put on scores of 87 and 75, while the locals scored 122 and 53.

"AS POOR AS JOE'S TURKEY"
Job never had a turkey; in fact, nobody in his parts had any, for the turkey is an American fowl, and it never laid eyes on the land of Job, not, at any rate, in Biblical times.

Such a little thing, however, did not prevent people from talking and writing about Job's turkey. One of them, Thomas Chandler Haliburton, may be largely responsible for the currency of the idiom.

In his work "The Clockmaker," Haliburton expatiated on the sad plight of such a bird that was down to its last tail feather and that was so worn out trying to hatch chickless eggs that in order to be able to gobble, it had to lean against a fence!

The "louch lot" of the turkey has been associated with Job ever since the fourteenth century; the expression was undoubtedly suggested by the proverbial patience of Job and the phrase "patient as Job" of Biblical origin.

PILE DRIVER SINKS

NANAIMO, B.C., Aug. 26.—A pile driver moored at the Canadian Pacific dock here was under water today. For apparently no reason the big, barge-mounted machine slowly tilted over as the tide dropped until the engine room was under water. No part of it was damaged.

HUSBAND TO BLAME?

Margaret's friends pity her—think marriage has made her an awful drudge—a regular "dishpan slave." Sometimes they blame her husband.

Actually, Margaret does no more housework or dishwashing than many of her friends. She could easily have hands as soft and white as theirs, if she used their beauty care... gentle Lux. It costs less than 1¢ a day.

Lux is very different from many soaps. It contains no harmful alkali to irritate and dry the skin. That's why it leaves hands so soft and lovely.

Let these pure, rich Lux flakes do your dishpan work. They're faster—and so much kinder to the hands!

Under terms of the draft bill, fire department would be administered by a provincial board of five members elected by the province, fire insurance underwriters, the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, and one by charter cities. Each city would have a board of three members, but their actions would be subject to approval of the provincial board.

Alderman Morgan, chairman of the fire wardens, made the following statement after the conference: "We considered every angle of the tentative draft bill and came to the conclusion that the cost of Victoria's Fire Department would increase between $35,000 and $50,000 if placed under the Civil Service Act. The sum is a large one to pass on to taxpayers."

INCREASED PREMIUMS

"The draft bill mentioned that one-third of the total cost of the fire department would be borne by fire insurance companies doing business in the province. That might be desirable, but would not those companies pass along the amount to policyholders in the form of a heavy premium increase? We doubt whether companies would voluntarily contribute to the cost of fire protection."

"It appears under the Civil Service Act the fire department would be entirely out of control of the City Council through its fire wardens. Would such a situation be desirable?"

"If firemen wish to improve their knowledge through study, fire wardens are willing to provide the necessary text books and arrange for special courses in the various technical phases of fire fighting."

"We take a firm stand that delegates to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities should voice their opposition to fire departments of the province being placed under the Civil Service Act," Alderman Morgan stated.

Judge: "Is the prisoner a known thief?"

Constable: "A known thief? Why, he'd steal the harness off a night-mare."

Invitation Music Recital Introduces Gifted Artists

Two gracious and richly accomplished artists combined their talents for the invitation chamber-music recital at which Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Rickard, 429 Lamson Street, were hosts last evening. When Mrs. Rickard, a gifted singer and pianist, and Madame Gertrude Huntly Green, Canada's most distinguished pianist, entertained the fifty guests with a memorably beautiful programme.

The big drawing-room and reception hall, with overlooking gallery and comfortable landing, approached by the grand staircase, formed an ideal auditorium. Save for the spotlight directed on the artists, the rooms were entirely candle-lit, thus enhancing the intimate atmosphere of the occasion. The arrangement of flowers was artistic, long-stemmed flame-colored gladioli being used in the hall, and pink to deep rose-shaded dahlias in the drawing-room. An enormous bowl of white sweet peas centred the table in the dining-room, where refreshments were served during an interval in the programme.

Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Rickard, the latter handsomely gowned in white tulle, bouffant style, with silver leaves applied to the skirt, and with a silver wreath in her hair, were Mrs. Diana Watts and Mrs. W. H. Hargrave, and among the out-of-town invited guests were Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Brady, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Atsaff, of New York; Bishop and Mrs. W. D. Remington, of Portland, Oregon; Colonel and Mrs. T. M. Knox, of Portland, and Miss Avis Phillips, of Vancouver. Madame Gertrude Huntly Green wore a graceful beaded gown of oyster white georgette with slight train.

Jane Dixon Says:

YOUNG LADY SAYS SHE'S A GOOD SPORT BUT ISN'T READY TO SURRENDER VACILLATING SWEETHEART TO OTHER GIRL—PROBLEM MAKING HER AN OLD LADY

Some excerpts from the letter of a young woman who was herself in such a state of confusion that she has lost all sense of reason. She is in the direct path of a psychoanalyst. She snatches at every little triviality and dwells upon it as though it were a major event in her life. When disappointment or defeat can be no more than temporary come her way they bowl her over so that she has to go to bed and be "sick" about them.

What she needs is a good dose of independence flavored with pride and well dusted over with gallantry.

Here her:

I am eighteen, in college and wholesomely in love with a young man a little bit my senior. We fell in love at first sight and cared so desperately that we even considered marriage. He promised that we were to marry he would dedicate his life to making me and our family happy. He loved children. He is studying a craft and an art. What dreams we built our life together when we had finished school!

I'm not especially attractive, neither do I have to beg attention. Because I show so much interest in others, people crave my companionship. This young man knows there are others who wanted to go with me.

His club gave a dance. I was forced to refuse his invitation because of illness in my family. Being a good sport, I told him to invite some other girl, which he did. At the dance he met a girl who either fell for him on the spot or he for her.

He never told me how sorry he was I couldn't go with him to the dance. I can never forgive him for having so little sympathy at a time like this.

He started to go with the other girl and did so steadily for several months. I was so upset by it that I had to go to bed and was forced to miss school for some time. He telephoned, wishing me a speedy recovery. Miss Dixon, I tried to smile, to pretend it wasn't hurting me, but inside it was killing me.

He has suggested that he divide his time between us. I don't believe in having a steady boy friend but in this instance I feel there should be a definite realization and a distinct choice made.

She forced him to go around with her by putting herself in his way so he couldn't escape her.

She haunts me, has even peeped under my door at night, but resists when I try to be nice to her.

No what he wanted to do was pacify her and go with me. I don't get his differentiation between what he seems to think is plain duty and heart's desire.

What shall I do about the way she treats me? What would you do to win back the love of the young man? What will I do about next school year? Should I live up the boy I love and who really loves me?—Truly,

IT MAY BE LOVE BUT—?

Answer: Don't do anything until you find what the young man does. He may have met what he claims is his obligation and resume his attention to you. I doubt that he will, but there is a chance.

If he had cared as much for you as you believe he did and does, he would never have been stampeded into leaving the other girl. No real man neglects the girl he loves to meet the importunities of another girl who is his "plain duty."

You must know how absurd it is to state that she "forced" him into going with her by "lying in wait for him." Men aren't that way! Spineless persons allow themselves to be pushed into situations disagreeable to them; regular people never do.

The main question is not whether you should surrender the man you feel you love so "desperately" to the other girl, but it is why on earth you would want to hold on to a man who can't make up his mind or doesn't care to make it up so long as he can have two girls battling for his cheap favor.

When you return to college hold your head high or go to another college. Hold it higher than either of these persons who have aggravated you to such an extent that you could not attend to the real purpose of your student days—to acquire education, poise, courage, spirit!

KILLED IN WOODS
CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C., Aug. 26.—The body of George Stepih, twenty-seven, killed in a logging accident yesterday, will be brought to Vancouver for burial. Stepih, working in the woods, was struck on the back of the head by a cable and was killed instantly.

DIES AT VANCOUVER
VANCOUVER, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Margaret C. Storrow, for the past twenty-three years a resident of Vancouver and prominent in community work, died on Wednesday. Mrs. Storrow was born in England.

Black Pussy was out very early hunting for her breakfast. Not that she needed to hunt for her breakfast. Black Pussy didn't need a single thing. Every morning Farmer Brown's boy filled a saucer with warm fresh milk for her, and every day she had all the meat that was good for her, so there wasn't the least need in the world for her to go hunting. Black Pussy was just like all cats. Lying before the fire in Farmer Brown's house, blinking and purring contentedly, she seemed too good-natured and gentle to hurt anyone and all Farmer Brown's family said that she was and believed it. They knew nothing about the empty little nests in the joyful Springtime empty because Black Pussy had found them and emptied them and broken the hearts of little father and mother birds.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Black Pussy Almost Catches a Good Breakfast
—By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Black Pussy was out very early hunting for her breakfast. Not that she needed to hunt for her breakfast. Black Pussy didn't need a single thing. Every morning Farmer Brown's boy filled a saucer with warm fresh milk for her, and every day she had all the meat that was good for her, so there wasn't the least need in the world for her to go hunting. Black Pussy was just like all cats. Lying before the fire in Farmer Brown's house, blinking and purring contentedly, she seemed too good-natured and gentle to hurt anyone and all Farmer Brown's family said that she was and believed it. They knew nothing about the empty little nests in the joyful Springtime empty because Black Pussy had found them and emptied them and broken the hearts of little father and mother birds.

You see Farmer Brown's folks really didn't know Black Pussy. But the little forest and meadow people did. They knew that Black Pussy was just like all cats—here and there and everywhere—and they hated Black Pussy, everyone of them. They knew that down in her heart was the love of killing, just that same love of killing that is in the heart of Shadow the Weasel, and so they hated Black Pussy. If she had had to hunt for a living they wouldn't have minded so much, but she didn't have to hunt for a living, and so they hated her twice as much.

This particular morning Black Pussy had chosen to have a look along the old stone wall on the edge of the Old Orchard. Many times she had hunted Striped Chipmunk there. She didn't know enough about the ways of the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows to know that this cold weather had sent Striped Chipmunk down into his snug bedroom under ground for a long sleep, so she sneaked alone from stone to stone hoping that she would surprise him. She had gone half the length of the old wall without a sign of anything to catch when she heard voices that put all thought of Striped Chipmunk out of her head. Crawling flat on her stomach to keep out of sight, she softly worked nearer and nearer until, peeping from behind a big stone in the old wall, she could see Chatterer the Red Squirrel, Peter Rabbit and Sammy Jay talking so busily and so much excited that they didn't seem to be paying attention to anything else.

Sammy Jay was safe because he was sitting in an old apple tree, but Chatterer was on the old wall, and Peter was on the ground. Which should she catch? Peter would make the biggest and best breakfast, but Black Pussy hadn't forgotten the terrible kick he had once given her when she had caught little Miss Pussycat up in the Old Pasture, and she had great respect for Peter's stout hindlegs. She would be content to catch Chatterer this morning. She hated him anyway, for he had been very saucy to her many times. He would never make fun of her or call her names again.

Black Pussy looked up at Sammy Jay and snarled at him in a terrible rage. Sammy shrieked at her just as angrily. Then when her head was turned for just an instant she darted down and actually pulled a tuft of hair from her coat and was safely out of the way before she could turn and spring. Then Black Pussy thrust a paw down between the stones where Chatterer had disappeared. She pulled it out again with a yowl of pain, for sharp little teeth had bitten it. Slowly and sullenly Black Pussy turned and limped back toward Farmer Brown's house. She suddenly remembered that saucer of milk and that was really all the breakfast she wanted.

Ross Somerville Is Eliminated by Day After Great Match

Canada's Last Hope in U.S. National Golf Meet Is Defeated, One-Up, by Twenty-Two-Year-Old Los Angeles Shotmaker—Johnny Fischer Defending Champion, Advances

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 26 (AP).—In a rousing upset, C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville, Canada's last hope to take the United States amateur golf championship, was sent to the sidelines today in the third round of match play over the Alderwood Country Club course.

Somerville, who won the 1932 tournament and regained his Canadian amateur crown less than a month ago, lost one up to Winfield Day, Los Angeles, and joined three fellow Canadians who failed to reach the third round.

They were Ken Black, of Vancouver, Canadian-born Joe Thompson, of Great Neck, N.Y., and Roger Kelly, native of Winnipeg and now a student of Loyola University, Los Angeles. Kelly, who won the qualifying medal, went out with Black and Thompson yesterday.

The Somerville-Day battle was one of the most thrilling of the third round. The lead alternated on each nine, but the twenty-two-year-old Day, a former Notre Dame athlete, squared the match at the sixteenth, took a one-hole lead when Somerville three-putted the seventeenth, and coasted out on the halved eighteenth.

At six holes they were square, and then Somerville went one-up at the eighth and they halved the ninth. The match was squared on the tenth when "Sandy" missed the green with his approach. On the short eleventh the Californian holed his tee shot to within three feet of the pin for a one-hole lead.

They halved the twelfth, but Somerville rammed home a ten-foot putt on the next hole for a birdie and they were all even. Somerville won the fourteenth when Day fluffed his approach, and the fifteenth was halved.

Day evened the match at the sixteenth when Somerville hooked his tee shot and took a bogey four. On the seventeenth Somerville again hooked from the tee, reaching deep rough, and could not get his par, while Day was on in two and two-putted. The eighteenth was a half in par fives.

Young Danish Girl Sets New Mark

JENNY KAMMERGAARD

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Danish girl, is shown above acknowledging the plaudits of her countrymen on her arrival at Copenhagen, Denmark, at the reception that followed her swim across the Kattegat, between Sweden and Jutland, a distance of fifty-five miles. Miss Kammergaard, although twenty-nine and one-half hours in the water, joined a dancing party soon after she reached shore. Her swim is believed to be the longest ever made in the sea, non-stop.

Martha Norelius, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., (left), congratulates Mrs. Lenore Wingard, of Homestead, Pa., after she added the world's professional open-water half-mile swimming championship to her world's half-mile pool record. The course was on Lake Erie, off the shore of the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland. Her time was 12 minutes and 9 seconds. There was no previous open water record.

Miss Norelius, staging a comeback, finished second.

RAINES WILL APPEAR HERE

Rugged Texan Booked for Semi-Windup of Mat Show Tomorrow

BILLY HANSON

Dick Raines, rugged Texan, and known in mat circles as the "Texas Tornado," was yesterday booked for the semi-windup event of tomorrow's bone-bending show at the Tillicum Gymnasium. Raines will be teamed against Hermie Olson, one of the famous Olson brothers, now making their first appearance on the Pacific Coast. The bout will be scheduled for five ten-minute rounds, one fall.

Hermie Olson, another newcomer to the local battlefront, has been booked to oppose Louie Newman, Victoria's own heavyweight, in the special event. The boys will squirm for five eight-minute sessions, or one fall.

Heading what gives promise of being one of the best shows in many months will be Billy Hanson, clever Salt Lake City pachyderm, and Abe "King Kong" Kasey, Syrian bad man of the pachydermic pastime. They are scheduled to go ten six.

"Big Train" From Boeing and Beezley Stables to Pack 127 Pounds in the Longacres $10,000 Mile—King Saxon Is Given 122 Pounds

LONGACRES RACE TRACK, Aug. 26.—In the Coast's Summer classic, the $10,000 Longacres Mile, September 4, the "big train" from Boeing and Beezley must pack 127 pounds, high weight.

Poundage assignments on twenty-one horses recently nominated in the Longacres Mile were released today by Racing Secretary Russell Saunders. Sobriety assumed five more pounds than the crack colt, King Saxon, one ruler of all American milers and conqueror of Discovery. King Saxon received 122 pounds to steady him on the mile journey.

As a result of his conquest in the $5,000 Del Mar Handicap late in July, the Oregon-bred horse, Sallys Booter, becomes the third strongest better in the fray, according to the expert, with 116 pounds aboard.

The good mare Princess Athene has 113 pounds, and the star Canadian development, this Summer, Real Clear, was awarded 106. Last year's winner, Ekotude, tries again, with 108 pounds aboard. The rejuvenated Bedo bears 113.

Lady Rowman, a non-starter in races beyond six furlongs, stretches her legs in this with 109 pounds.

LE FEBVRE IS JUNIOR ISLAND NET CHAMPION

Jean Eckhardt Springs Upset To Defeat Kay Staples For Girls' Title

DUNCAN, Aug. 26.—Vanquishing his fellow townsman, Talbott, in straight sets, 6-1 and 6-4, Doug Le Febvre, of Seattle, today won the Vancouver Island junior tennis title in the boys under eighteen class. By his victory, Le Febvre also carried off the Northwestern Washington junior singles title. This final was played last Sunday at Bellingham, and Le Febvre and Talbott, who headed the rest of the field, arranged to play it off here.

The biggest upset of the tournament was the defeat of Kay Staples, of Duncan, British Columbia junior champion, by Jean Eckhardt, of Mission, runner-up for that title.

Miss Staples won the first set comparatively easy at 6-3, lost the second at 1-6, and had match point in the third set, but was unable to score the winning point, finally losing the match in the third set, 5-7.

Miss Eckhardt repeated her triumph by winning the girls' under sixteen title in straight sets, 6-3, 6-0, from Virginia May, of Parksville. The boys' under sixteen title went to Henry Bennett, of Victoria, who defeated W. Knotts, also of the capital city, in a hard three-set match, 5-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Bennett and Knotts teamed up to win the boys' under sixteen doubles title from France, Kelowna, and Paris, Vancouver.

Speedway Kings to Perform Tomorrow Night at Langford

Visiting and Victoria Drivers on Hand for Another Meet—Bert Sutton Sets Unofficial Track Record of 22.5 Seconds in Trial Spin

With the roar of powerful speedway motors zooming around the Langford automobile race track humming in their ears, local thrill lovers will witness the class of northwest dirt track drivers in action tomorrow evening.

Postponed from last Saturday evening, when the races were rained out, the visiting speedsters from Seattle, and local pilots, will battle it out for the prize money with the first time trial scheduled for 8:15 o'clock.

All the American cars have been in the city during the past week and their pilots will be in the cockpit ready to go at the first bark of the starter's gun. Elmer Setteman is at present the big noise in the outside competition, having made a clean sweep of the major events in the last meet staged here.

SETS NEW MARK

However, the Seattle flash will have to wind his speed-wagon up to the last notch to get out in front of Bert Sutton, local dirt track hero, who skidded Jack Smith's Special around the Langford oval on Wednesday in 22.5 to set a new unofficial track record. Two watches caught Sutton in this fast time, which bests the previous mark of 23 established by Setteman.

Joe Campbell, of Seattle, who pilots an Eckert Special, is rated Jennings, Metcalchin, and Fay Anderson, 6-2, 6-1.

Boys' Consolation Handicap

Final—Stan Smith, Seattle, won from Ean Sunderland, Duncan, 6-1, 6-0.

Girls' Consolation Handicap

Final—Shelagh Halley, Salt Spring, won from Daphne Purvey, Duncan, 6-2, 6-1.

Finals Carded AT VANCOUVER

Mann Cup Series Will Be Played in Terminal City Despite Objections

VANCOUVER, Aug. 26 (AP).—Some of the tumult and shouting died in the Inter-City Box Lacrosse League today as fans accepted the fact the Mann Cup finals, deciding Canadian lacrosse supremacy, would be played in Vancouver, no matter who the finalists were.

Yesterday Jim McConaghy, inter-city lacrosse commissioner, received a letter from Mike Kelley, of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association which reiterated the president's decision the Mann Cup finals would be played at Vancouver Forum.

Answering the deft of Fred Hume, Mayor of N. W. Westminster, that if Salmonbellies won the provincial play-offs the finals would be in the Royal City, or Salmonbellies "wouldn't take the floor" Kelley said in that case the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association would "take the second best team in opposition the Eastern champions."

Seven games remain to be played before the finals of the Inter-City League are reached, with little doubt attached to the three teams which will be on top.

In fourth place is Indians with a total of 20 points, and only a mathematical, unlikely chance will enable them to oust Richmonds. Burrards, who eked out an 18-17 win over Salmonbellies last Monday, trail the league with 14 points.

A conscientious little girl was explaining to her younger brother that it is wrong to work on Sunday.

"Well, policemen work on Sunday," said the boy. "Don't they go to heaven?"

"No," replied his sister. "They do not need policemen up there."

GOLF FACTS

NOT THEORIES

By ALEX MORRISON

If you can start your backswing right, more than half the job of making a good swing is done. In other words, most of the mistakes you make occur before you reach the end of your backswing.

These mistakes are indicated by haste and lack of organization in taking the club away from the ball. It is wrong to start your hands back before your body or your body before your hands. They should move together. They move together only when they are held rather close together, that is when the arms are held in against the body. A simple way to do this is by keeping the right elbow pressing against the mid section as the club is started back.

Of course this doesn't mean that everything about your backswing will be correct, but it will overcome many faults that come about through letting the arms get away from the body in this stage of the swing. By keeping your right elbow in at this point, you will find your body working more in harmony with your hands during the downswing, your balance will be better and you will have the feeling of having timed your swing.

Obviously, this means better control of all shots, so the next time you find yourself hurrying your backswing keep the right elbow against your body.

Heavy Selling in New York Mart Brings Relapses

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP).—Heavy selling in the stock market today followed fresh complications in the Far Eastern war and leading issues suffered lapses of 1 to 3 or more points.

Steel and rails in the stock list dwined after the brief burst in the second hour, but transfers totaled 966,000 shares, compared with 497,310 yesterday.

Breadth of the setback was emphasized by the fact that 803 separate stocks changed hands, against 681 Wednesday. There were 612 declines, 67 advances and 124 were the same as the previous close.

Bonds followed to a greater or lesser extent. United States Government securities were substantially lower. Late in the day the Federal Reserve Bank of New York reduced its discount rate to 1 per cent, a record bottom for any central banking institution.

United States Government bonds, in common with most groups in the bond market, gave way to more selling today and finished around low levels of the session.

Japanese Government bonds rallied, despite apprehension of new complications in the Far East as a result of the wounding of the British Ambassador. The Japan 6 1/2-28 was up 23-8 at 78-8 and the 5 1/2-28 up 2 at 66-1-2.

"VIRGO"

If August 27 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 9 to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 4 to 6 p.m., and from 11 p.m. until midnight.

Fight shy of expressing an opinion regarding the shortcomings of anyone this day, for it may involve you in a perk of trouble. Factions disregard of the feelings of other people will be the cause of much of the day's unhappiness. A sense of self-righteousness must be guarded against, for those who suffer from it are apt to be brought face to face with some very unpleasant truths. There will be a prevailing tendency to be extravagant this day, particularly among people who have charge accounts. The wise will remember that there is always a day of reckoning, when payments must be made, and will govern their expenditures accordingly to their income. Avoid if possible any legal entanglements this day. Bear in mind that frequently a poor compromise is better than the most promising lawsuit conceivable. Married and engaged couples, as well as the victims of Cupid's wiles, must forego any semblance of being dictatorial, if they wish to avoid bringing upon themselves a whirlwind of resentment.

The child born on August 27, as a rule, upon reaching maturity, is successful in its undertakings, exceptionally healthy, and frequently becomes extremely wealthy. If a man, and August 27 is your natal day, if you are master of yourself, you probably will control the destinies or influence the lives of many people. As a clergyman, manufacturer, inventor, engineer, social worker, politician, sales manager, banker or merchant, your future ought to be bright.

Interrupted Romance by Julie Anne Moore

CHAPTER XIX
Chief Carter said, "I thought, Mr. Garbrook, you might be willing to run down to Savannah with a couple of my men to make sure it's Marco. The drive's not more than two hours and a half. It's either you or some member of the family." Angus looked down at Polly and his lips parted—but before he could speak, Jerry Brell said, "I'll be glad to take Miss Markey back to the island, Garbrook."

But Angus' gaze remained fixed on Polly's small face in which the color was perceptibly deepening. "Why not come along, Polly? We'll have lunch down there and get back in ample time for dinner."

Polly looked from Angus to Jerry back to Angus. She said suddenly, "I'd enjoy it, Angus, but I've a job to look after. My work was laid out before Mr. Fordell was killed. She put a hand on his arm. "Some other time."

Five minutes later as they rode off in Jerry's car, Jerry said, "As a lesser member of the War Department, I forbid you to work in Fordell's study today. What shall we do, ride, go for a sail...?"

"Oh, I'd love that—a sail," Polly said. "Could we take Tod along?"

"Why not? I've had him out before," he said. "A very handy little sailor. Understand this, however: no worry ever went aboard that little tub of mine. It isn't built to carry that kind of cargo and the moment you put your foot on deck, you forget everything unpleasant. Do you accept the conditions?"

"We can't even talk about—what's happened? There's so much I want to ask you."

He relented a little. "We'll see. As a matter of fact, there's quite a lot I want to ask you, too."

Polly took the tiller while Jerry cast off and Tod, having been thoroughly rehearsed in his all important duty, went to work with a delighted little laugh when Jerry gave the signal to run up the jib. Jerry gave a hand, but with the feeling he was being helped rather than helping Tod was in his glory.

"Poor little tyke," Jerry said, taking over the tiller. "Don't know what it's all about does he?"

"About his father?" Polly said. "I'm afraid he does. Jerry You don't know how brave he has been."

They were sitting on the floor with their backs against the coaming and Jerry said, "There ought to be a dozen more pillows in the locker there if you haven't enough."

"No more, thank you," Polly replied. "You probably have theories about the number of pillows a girl requires."

Jerry laughed. He was looking at her hair. "I hadn't realized there was so much red in it," he said. "It's bee-yu-tiful!"

"He's off," Polly smiled and looked up at the blue sky. This sort of thing suited her. She had a mood for the sea, a very special mood. It quieted her nerves and rested her body. It swept the cobwebs from her brain and gave her a feeling of having just begun to live. Looking at her watch, she put this thought into words. "This is Friday and the time is when you hear the silent silver gong, exactly twelve-fifteen. You must remember that, Jerry, because I drew my first breath on that day and at that hour and in this place."

Jerry nodded. "I'm older by some twelve hours," he said. "My life began between the hours of noon and two o'clock last night. Would you like to hear about it?"

Polly was looking straight ahead at Tod's back. He was watching a school of porpoises. Not moving her head, she said, "I would rather hear about this morning, when you first opened your eyes. What was the first thought that popped into your noodle?"

"She's marvelous," he said. "She was watching her out the corner of his eye, and after a little silence he saw her head come around."

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

SORE THROAT CAUSES RHEUMATISM—RHEUMATISM CAUSES HEART DISEASE

The cause of many cases of heart disease is an attack of rheumatism, and the cause of many cases of rheumatism is a sore throat, or infected tonsils due to streptococcal infection.

Unfortunately the sore throat which caused the rheumatism is sometimes so slight and the rheumatism occurs so long afterwards—often a few days to a few weeks—that the sore throat has been completely forgotten and is, of course, never thought of as the cause of the rheumatism.

Dr. H. Barwell, in The Lancet, London, says: "There is little room for doubt, then, that acute rheumatism is caused by streptococcal infection, but just how the effect is produced is still uncertain. It seems to be due to a faulty method of handling poisons from these little organisms." The patient who develops an attack of rheumatic fever handles these poisons produced by the streptococcus in a peculiar way.

The chances of the tonsils and throat being attacked by these little organisms (streptococci), become much less if the tonsils are removed.

"When, therefore, a sore throat has been followed by rheumatic fever, it is proper that the tonsils be removed."

Dr. Barwell points out, however, that even after the tonsils have been removed there are numerous small masses of lymphoid tissue (like tonsil tissue) that remain watered over the back of the throat and acute inflammation of the throat can and does occur after the tonsils have been removed. Thus removing the tonsils does not with certainty prevent further attacks of rheumatism, though it makes them less likely to occur."

The thought, then, is that a slight or passing sore throat, with little or no symptoms, may cause the most severe attack of rheumatic fever, which in turn may infect the lining and valves of the heart, causing permanent damage.

There should not be the slightest hesitancy about having tonsils removed after but one attack of rheumatism.

Bad tonsils invite rheumatism and rheumatism causes heart disease. Any adult who still has his tonsils should remember the possibilities of rheumatism and heart disease which often follow a slight sore throat.

"So be a your little brother, Punny you are so fair and he is so dark."

"Yes but he was born after mother dyed her hair."
